WVMA Member:

Last week, on Friday, March 20, 2020, the WVMA proactively requested an exemption from any forthcoming “shelter in place” or “stay at home” order for the State of Wisconsin for veterinary services.

We joined with over twenty other agricultural and agribusiness organizations to make our request and we asked that our request be very broadly construed to include all activities, supplies and services required to maintain veterinary services and care in the State of Wisconsin under any forthcoming order.

Accordingly, we will be reviewing the expected “stay at home” order issued by Wisconsin tomorrow to determine whether it could affect our member companies. We will provide additional information as it becomes available.

The only specific information that we have for Wisconsin at this time is this message from the Governor today -- Safer at Home:
