

Q: Do I need proof I work for an essential business?

A: During this afternoon's Governor's Press Conference, the Governor's chief legal counsel, Ryan Nilsestuen, stated explicitly that such documentation of employment is not required. However, if employers and employees feel more comfortable providing such letters, they can certainly do that.